General Meeting – , 7:30 pm, Goodman Library, 1219 First St., Napa

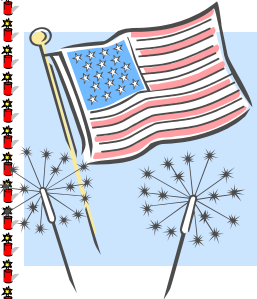

Tour of the Famous Goodman Library

On Thursday, July 19 at 7:30 PM we will gather at the recently renovated Goodman Library, 1219 First Street in downtown Napa. The venerable Goodman Library houses the Napa County Historical Society and contains the Society's extensive collection of historical documents and artifacts.

A docent-researcher will be our guide as we have a tour of the museum-library. We will be oriented to the collection and learn how we may utilize the materials and services of the institution.

Please join us for this rare opportunity to see the historic building and have questions answered about Napa County history.

Happy Birthday, America

A Message from our President

The Board of Directors has determined that we should distribute future issues of the Wine Press by email where possible. The Post Office has changed their mailing schedule so that it takes a minimum of three weeks to be delivered after they receive the documents. This makes it very difficult to inform the members of meetings and other events in a timely manner. If you change your email address, or have not provided an email address to our Society, we strongly request that you send it to us at nvgbs@aol.com ASAP. The Wine Press has also been used to inform members to renew their annual membership. In the future, the names of the expiring memberships will be printed in the Wine Press and members are encouraged to check this list to determine their membership status.

Our Annual Fund Raiser, the Wine Collection Drawing, is scheduled for Thursday, August 16, 2007, at the Napa Senior Center. This meeting will begin at 7:00 PM, instead of 7:30 PM. Entertainment will be by Acoustic Ambiance, a husband and wife guitar duo playing light melodies. We are requesting that our members bring hors d'oeuvres and desserts to share at the event. This year our First Prize will be 50 bottles of Napa Valley Wines, with several other prizes. We have a table at the Napa Wine Train Station until August 16 for volunteers to sell raffle tickets. We hope that many of our members will volunteer to staff the table at the Napa Valley Wine Train Station as this is our only fund raiser of the year. A sign up sheet is available at the Library. Members will be receiving 12 raffle tickets in the mail soon and we request that the stubs, or unsold tickets, be returned by August 13, 2007, to be certain that they are included in the drawing.

We are also planning to have a booth at the Napa Town and Country Fair from August 9 through August 12, 2007. We have had a booth at the Fair the last two years and the Board feels that it gives us good exposure and lets many people know that we have a Genealogy Library in Napa. We will also need volunteers to staff the booth at the Fair. Sandra Hoover is coordinating this event and you can contact her at the Library if you are interested in volunteering.

Ancestry.com has just released a significant amount of military records. To gain access these records go to <http://www.ancestry.com>. Click on Military Records in the Popular Sites, and then on the Sponsored Links, click on the second ancestry.com/military. Good luck in your re-searching.

Dick Bruechert, NVGBS President

PS Our Library is now open on every Saturday, from 10 AM to 2 PM, during the summer months. This will provide an opportunity for our members to do additional research at the Library. We appreciate the group of volunteers that have made this possible.

EDUCATIONALLY SPEAKING

by Laura McCoy,

Treestones are grave markers that actually look like trees. They were most popular between 1880 and 1905, and were adopted as a symbol by the Woodmen of the World organization for use by their members. Forms include: Seedling (life everlasting), stump (life interrupted), stump with ivy (Head of family), and trunk (brevity of life). Other varieties of trees and leaves held their own special meanings:

Acanthus - a prickly journey from life to death, triumph of eternal life

Cypress - hope, eternal life (once the tree is cut, its leaves are evergreen)

Fern - humility, frankness and sincerity

Ivy - friendship, immortality, attachment, affection

Laurel - fame or honor

Mistletoe - immortality

Oak Leaves and acorn - maturity, ripe old age

Oak tree - strength or faith and virtue, endurance

Palm branch - victory, rejoicing

Pinecone - immortality

Severed branch - mortality

Weeping willow - lament of loss

The phases of the day capture sentiments as well:

Moon - death and rebirth

Star - divine guidance

Sun rising - renewed life

Sun shining - life everlasting

Sun setting - end of life

Taken from Family Chronicle Magazine - April 2007 issue.

To be continued..... Happy Hunting,...Laura

FINDING THE RIGHT FOCUS FOR YOUR RESEARCH:

- ◆ Direct Lineage: Start with one person and follow that surname back through the generations. This is often used to qualify for a lineage society. Siblings are usually disregarded in this research method which only finds relatives who are 100% direct bloodline.
- ◆ Family Group Lineage: Similar to Direct Lineage except that siblings are included. This is the most common type of research.
- ◆ Collateral Lines: This traces family groups from a common ancestor. Some what backwards from the Direct Lineage. Following some other lines of descendants can help overcome a brick wall for your line.
- ◆ Cluster Genealogy: This investigates a cluster of people not necessarily related. Such as a project on the first families of the City of Napa.
- ◆ Contemporary Descendancy: Traces descendants of an individual or couple to all living relatives. Useful for planning a reunion.

The Story of Sammy DAR

Have you ever wondered about the cheerful little guy holding the American Flag and greeting you at the door of the Library? If he is standing outside, then you know the Library is open before parking your car. The Volunteers are trained to wheel him out on the porch, as they open the Library.

Sammy DAR was born/created circa 1994 by Lerna and Peter Gaudino for a district meeting hosted by Vineyard Trails Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution Society (DAR). The chapter spent many hours creating a patriotic theme through out the conference room and wanted an "Uncle Sam" at the entry way to greet people. Therefore, our new creation was affectionately named "Sammy DAR."

After the function was over, it was decided that he should be donated to our Genealogy Library. He has thoroughly enjoyed his job as a "greeter" for the past thirteen years.

Member Mary Massey has put together a Gannon Family Genealogy in Book form that is quite impressive. She used a scrapbook format with copies of photos, documents, census, letters, and more. It is quite impressive. She passes on this hint: if you are looking for a “lost” living family member, you can fill out a form at your local police department and they will do a search. They will not give you any information but instead will send a form to the address on the person’s driver’s license that will allow them to contact you. It helped Mary connect with a nephew and discover more genealogical information. Because I get questions: Genealogy Software Quick Review from 2007 TopTenREVIEWS, Inc

ANNOUNCEMENT

May 15, 2007, Footnote.com announced an agreement with FamilySearch, historically known as the Genealogical Society of Utah, a nonprofit organization sponsored by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. FamilySearch is the world's largest repository of genealogical information. This new partnership brings together two organizations that will utilize their combined resources to digitize and make available many large historical collections. The first project will be the three million U.S. Revolutionary War Pension files which will be published for the first time online in their entirety. "The Revolutionary War Pensions will provide an intimate look into the historical events and individuals that shaped our country's history," said Russell Wilding, CEO of Footnote.com. The Revolutionary War Pension Files feature original records that include muster rolls, payrolls, strength returns and other miscellaneous personnel pay and supply records of American Army Units from 1775-1783. www.footnote.com

Note from Janice:

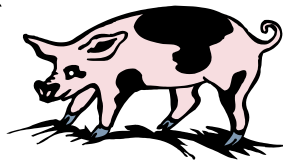

Not all content is free but Ruth Jenkins passed on this tip. If you do a search and find some article that you want to examine, you may enlarge it (to enlarge, hold down the control key and use the scroll feature of your mouse). You will be able to see if you are interested enough to purchase it or just to extract information from the screen. Some documents are available to view at no charge. You can also do a tour of the site (which is very interesting and informative). If you have a dial up browser that is slow, you can choose the option to view the tour on YouTube. Remember, our library has a very fast connection and air conditioning so come on down!

COME JOIN US AT THE NAPA TOWN & COUNTRY FAIR

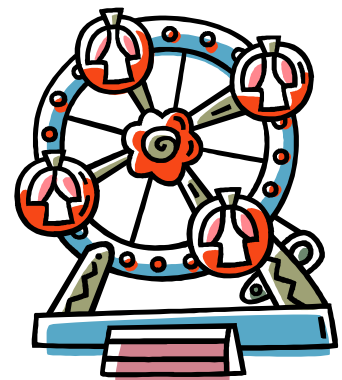

August 8 – 12, 2007

Our society will have a booth at the fair once again this year, same place as last year in the Chardonnay Hall. All the volunteers who staffed the booth last year had a great time visiting and meeting new people...people who were interested in the same hobby we are, GENEALOGY!

Volunteers receive a free Fair Pass which allows access to the rest of the Fair before and after their shift. Shifts are flexible. If you are interested in volunteering for the fair booth, call Sandy Hoover at 226-8776 or e-mail her at sandyhoover@comcast.net

Library Open House A Great Success

The June monthly afternoon meeting of the Genealogical & Biographical Society held at the library was well attended by both members and guests. There was a general discussion with many questions asked and answered within in the group and by library staff. Following the group meeting Ruth Jenkins demonstrated her extensive use of computer programs in the development of her own family history. Dolores Hibbert assisted attendees in pursuing leads. Delicious refreshments were served. Our thanks to Librarian Sandy Hoover and her volunteers for preparing a delightful program.
