New records are added all the time. Save the sites as bookmarks and check often. This is the Pilot site that I have mentioned before for the LDS Family Search site. It is really amazing and new items are added constantly. It has many more options from their old family search site. <http://pilot.familysearch.org/recordsearch/start.html#p=home>

Wow, on Google Books is a scanned image of the book “A Census of Pensioners for Revolutionary or Military Services with their Names, Ages, and Places of Residence as Returned by the Marshals of the Several Judicial Districts, Under The Act for Taking the Sixth Census Printed 1841” You can look at lists of pensioners still living when the 1840 Census was taken. What a great source this is to help you find pension records. <http://www2.census.gov/prod2/decennial/documents/1840c-01.pdf>

This is a great learning tool for internet searches. It is like taking a class without heading all the way to South Carolina. Bare Bones 101: A Very Basic Web Search Tutorial, written by the Head Librarian at the University of South Carolina (USA)

August Program

It was a festive evening for the annual raffle ticket drawing, the culmination of six weeks of sales of chances to win the major first prize, 50 bottles of premium wines, and nine additional wine prizes. Proceeds of the sales will support the services of the Genealogy Library.

Society members and guests enjoyed delicious food and wine. Entertainment was provided by the Juliane Band. This trio, led by singer, Juliane Poirier, accompanied by accordion player Steve Steiner, and guitarist Larry Ruch, presented a variety of folk, country and pop rock numbers. So engaging was the music that couples got up and danced.

The highlight of the evening was the drawing. The grand winner is Heather Vieau of Napa. The additional nine winners represented California, Louisiana and Texas. Door prizes of wine were consolation for many members in attendance.

Wine Train Raffle Ticket Sales

Thanks to all the members of the society who sold raffle tickets at the Napa Valley Wine Train Station during July and August as part of our annual fund raiser. Twice a day prior to the departure of the train, a volunteer manned our special table and offered the many visitors chances to win the first prize of fifty bottles of premium Napa Valley Wines as well as eight additional wine prizes.

Special recognition goes to Margaret Mackenzie who gave many hours of service over and above those requested. Margie expressed enjoyment with the experience of greeting and chatting with tourists and would recommend it to all members.
